

Privacy Policy

Ventura Futures truly values each and every one of our visitors and we take your privacy seriously. As part of our normal operations we may collect information about you and how you interact with our website. Our Privacy Policy is intended to provide you with a full description of the information we collect about you and what we do with that information. If you have any questions about our Privacy Policy, please contact us at info@venturafutures.com

Personally Identifiable Information

In general, you can visit VenturaFutures.com without telling us who you are and without revealing any information about yourself. There are times, however, when we might request that you disclose certain pieces of personal information to us, such as when you request free publications. You may choose to disclose this information, such as your name, address, or e-mail address. Please note that if you choose not to disclose this information, functionality of our site and its resources may be limited. This personally-identifiable information is never rented, sold or disclosed to any third parties.

Cookies

In addition to personally-identifiable information, Ventura Futures collects anonymous user information through the delivery of cookies. Cookies allow the Ventura Futures Web site to be more efficient by allowing us to learn what information is important to our visitors, and what isn't.

What is a 'cookie'? A cookie is a small text file containing a unique identification number that is transferred from a Web site to the hard drive of your computer so that the site administrator may identify your computer and passively track its activities on the Web site. A cookie will not allow a Web site to learn any personally-identifiable information unless you have previously disclosed that information to us.

The use of cookies is an industry standard and is currently used with most major Web sites. Cookies allow web sites to serve its customers better by providing measurement statistics on site usage, learn about areas of the site that are over- or under-utilized, and helps to ensure that you are logged into your account correctly. It is possible to adjust your Web browser preferences to alert you when a cookie is sent to your hard drive, or to refuse cookies altogether. While Ventura Futures does not require you to accept cookies, certain services will not function properly if you do not use and accept cookies.

We consider privacy and security of our visitors to be of the utmost importance. Any future development of VenturaFutures.com that involves the exchange of personally-identifiable information will be treated with due discretion and will be fully disclosed to our visitors. Thank you for visiting www.venturafutures.com
